

BIRD BEAK BATTLE!

Investigation Question

How does the structure of the birds beak help with the type of the food it eats?

Prediction

I predict that a finches beak would just peck at it to break it down smaller so it could swallow it better. I predict that a ducks beak could crush pasta shells down so it's smaller so it's easier to eat.

How does the structure of a bird's beak affect what it eats?

BIRD BEAK BATTLE!

Investigation Question

Which bird beak will be the best at picking up the items?

Prediction

My prediction is that the pelican will be the best at picking up the apples. As big, the Finch will only pick up tiny things. the Kooka Bura will only pick up medium and small things like nuts. the duck will pick up small and big things. the cockatoo will pick up small things.
